“ One of the programs that NWC provides for international students, that I really love, is the Friendship Family Program. My friendship family was so kind to me and they helped me a lot. They talked to me a lot, treated me to their home and showed me many of the surrounding places. Thanks to them, I had various and better experiences in Powell. ”

The teachers, classmates and other staff are all very nice to international students. There’s less than 10 students in one ESL class which allows us to get more attention from the teachers.”*

“ Easily one of the top 10 schools in the U.S. for photography. Northwest has shaped me and made me the photographer I am today. I am grateful for the delightful two years I spent there in an idyllic basin of northwest Wyoming. It gave me a solid foundation on which I could build and grow and create a style of my own, forging life-long friendships, and setting my path for a successful and gratifying career. As a young student at the time, I could see that beyond the technique, it was a perspective that the professors showed us which would allow us to set impossible goals and then achieve them.”

— Adil Jain, India

Explore

- Experience nature through camping, hiking, rafting, rock climbing... or travel to a city for concerts, restaurants, shopping malls, museums and theatre

- Go to the Recreation Equipment Co-op for free rentals on sports and outdoor gear – from tennis rackets to kayaks
- Put your studies to work through an internship on- or off-campus

A group of eight young adults, four men and four women, are posing for a photo on a grassy hillside overlooking the ancient Inca city of Machu Picchu. The ruins, with their terraced stone walls and green agricultural terraces, are spread across the valley floor. In the background, steep, forested mountains rise under a cloudy sky. The group is dressed in casual outdoor attire, including hats, sunglasses, and backpacks. One man in the front row is holding a newspaper. A woman on the right is sitting on the ground with a large backpack and a camera nearby.

“ The positive experiences I made with the students, teachers, college staff and community members are numerous. The small class sizes, the individual attention and the variety of classes provided me with an excellent opportunity to study, be successful and challenge myself in a non-native language. I would recommend NWC to everybody wishing to experience some time in the USA and enjoy the friendly people, the great outdoors and the overall wonderful journey. ”
